On January 20, 2009, our nation will celebrate the Inauguration of the new President of the United States. Elegant balls will be held throughout the nation's capital. One of the finest will be hosted by the Hawai`i State Society of Washington, D.C., at the elegant Mandarin Oriental Hotel, located a mile from the U.S. Capitol and the White House. The ball will feature Asian-Pacific food, drink, and entertainment, and will evoke the genuine warmth of the people of Hawai`i.

Since 1952, the Hawai`i State Society has brought together people from Hawai`i and other Asia-Pacific regions. The Society promotes the Aloha Spirit and serves as a cultural bridge between Hawai`i and the Washington Metropolitan area.
